保單條款

108 年 10 月 01 日裕利安宜 108 發字第 0120 號函備查

Consignment stock Endorsement

Notwithstanding any contrary provision in the Policy, you and we agree that debts arising from goods supplied on a consignment stock basis will be covered subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. You must have entered into a written Consignment Stock Agreement with a Buyer which provides for, amongst other things:
 - 1.1 goods supplied by you to be held on consignment by the Buyer; and
 - 1.2 terms and conditions for releasing of goods from the consignment stock to the Buyer, at such times as the Buyer requires.
2. For the purpose of this Endorsement, goods will be considered as having been despatched to a Buyer on the date on which the goods are released in compliance with the terms of the Consignment Stock Agreement (the “Goods Released”).
3. The invoice value of Goods Released will contribute to an Insured Debt provided the invoice is raised within (XX) days of the date of the release.

If, while a positive Approved Limit is in force, an event of loss occurs and there are Goods Released for which you have not yet issued an invoice, you must immediately submit an invoice for such goods for them to contribute to the Insured Debt.

4. Cover for non-cancellable contracts as specified in section 2.04 c) of the General Terms and Conditions does not apply under this Endorsement. As a result, you will have no cover for any Goods Released and/or services provided after the date you receive our notification of withdrawal or reduction.
5. Our liability under this Endorsement is restricted to indebtedness arising from Goods Released which you have included in your declaration of Turnover and in respect of which you have paid premium.
